

Thinking Big and Small
Your Share Is $3000
Meat and Alcohol Win
Christianity Improves

By Arthur Brisbane

HENRY FORD WILL SAY IN Capper's Magazine for April "It is just as easy to think big as it is to think small."

It is after you get a start.
For instance, in 1809, 71 years ago, John D. Rockefeller was began working as office boy for $15 a month, started for himself as a commission man. He began "thinking big." He had accumulated $17,000 in 1862 and took a partner, Maurice B. Clark. They invested their money in a crude oil "refinery" in Cleveland.

That was the beginning of "thinking big."
In 1865, Mr. Rockefeller was now approaching his 91st birthday and was then 78, bought out his partner for $72-
500. Standard Oil's advertising papers were signed on Jan. 10, 1870. Standard Oil is now 60 years old.
John D. Rockefeller has been "thinking big" ever since.

His best "big thinking" has been devoted to the fight against disease. Instead of using a few dollars to relieve individual cases, he uses millions of dollars to eliminate diseases permanently.

The National Industrial Conference board tells you that the wealth of the United States amounts to 360 billions, 100 million.

It sounds a lot, but it is only $3000 for each American, and about $500 extra for New Yorkers. That isn't enough.

It is a healthy black slave in 1860 was worth on the auction block $1000, what is the value of an American, selling to Europe and Asia, ordinarily, to earn at least $3 a day?

Human machines alone, leaving out mines, real estate, forestries, are worth more than 30 billions.

This land and its people receive whatever science and industry choose to produce—certainly not more billions, but trillions.

In India Hindus and Mohammedans fight, the Hindus, wear incubated, getting the worst of it. Mohammedans lost Hindu shops, burn Hindu homes.

The Hindus live on vegetable and drink water.

The Mohammedans eat meat and drink water, their people don't let them drink alcohol.
With their meat diet, they beat the Hindus.

The British, thousands of miles away, eat meat AND drink beer, wine and spirits. And they beat both the Hindus and Mohammedans.

Find the moral in that.

Thank to Senator Borah
when the Russian general seems to respect, 13 of 14 his, in danger of execution, have been granted the right to leave.

The other three are still uncertain.

Protestant and Catholic dissenters are striving to save the rebels, accused of organizing opposition to Russia's government.

The Russians cynically remark that this showed improvement in Christianity, since, after very long ago, Protestants and Catholics were both engaged in prosecuting Jews and killed many, often for their money from them.

Secretary Lamont of the Department of Commerce, learns that 75 per cent of business failures are due to carelessness.

Mr. Solomon, who owns a neatly parlor, asked, "Is it a good business?" replied, "That's a good business if you know how to manage it. But any man who is a reformer knows he doesn't know how to manage it."
Personally, as he will tell you,
Mr. Solomon pays more attention to business than to beauty.

Lady Astor, who talks sweetly on the radio, warns you that another big war "probably would cost western civilization."

Perhaps it would. Probably not.
It would kill millions, waste vast quantities of money, and leave the world in ruins.

But it would cost very quickly,
and it would kill nearly half the population of Europe.

The victims would be in the hundreds of millions, where airplanes can reach crowded populations conveniently.

It is the surrender of a nation taken by surprise, the country would again reconstruct what we call "Civilization."

It would be necessary to end scientific knowledge to end civilization. Merely killing people would not do it. Human beings have been killing each other for 1,000,000 years.

What a man really wants to do, he can do.

B. & M. Pays Dividend on Common

First One Declared in 17 Years Puts Stock on $4 Annual Basis

For the first time in 17 years the directors of the Boston & Maine Railroad today declared a dividend to holders of common stock.

It is a quarterly dividend of 11 per cent, payable April 1 to stockholders of record March 8. The regular quarterly dividends to all other classes of stock were voted at the same time.

This is another step in the rehabilitation of the Boston & Maine, which, with its budget for this year, will have spent more than $10,000,000 in the past seven years for improvements. In grading, bridges, tunnels, and other improvements, the company has been making a record.

It has been felt by the board of directors that the program of modernization should be well advanced before common dividends were resumed, said the directorate in an announcement accompanying the dividend declaration.

While not complete, rehabilitation has gone far enough to convince the board that the Boston & Maine Railroad has been restored to a point where common stock with continued fair treatment and cooperation by the public and the regulatory bodies, the management will be able to provide the further improvements in service and equipment which are desirable in the railroad's interest and the public interest.

The resumption of dividends on the common shares after a lapse of 17 years has been made possible by the confidence of security holders in the plan of financial reorganization, by the support of the public.

End Comes to Father Bodfish

Believe Dr. Munroe D. Miller Died by Accident While Testing Out Gas Mask

Dr. Munroe D. Miller, 36, of Roxbury, a dentist, was found dead on a couch in his office today, a gas inhalator mask over his face. A tube connected the mask with an empty tank that had contained nitrous oxide.

The young dentist, graduate of Columbia University and Harvard Medical School is believed to have been accidentally killed while testing the gas administering device which he recently purchased.

He bought the device only two or three days ago and had made several experiments with it, according to Dr. William Henry Thompson, his roommate, and Mrs. Pearl
White, his landlady at 125 North avenue at home where he made his home.

eral experiments with it, according to Dr. William Henry Thomp-
son, his roommate, and Mrs. Pearl
White, his landlady at 125 North
avenue at home where he made his home.

Police scoured the theory of murder, but after interviewing his friends and there was no reason why he should end his own life, it was ruled out.

Mrs. White, at whose home he lived while attending Harvard, said that after during his college years he was without funds, but since his graduation in 1912 he had slowly built up an excellent practice and was winning a trip to Europe this summer.

Dr. Miller was an accomplished pianist and was employed in the building of the Boston Public Library when that organization existed on Bowdoin Wharf. He often "filled in" as a pianist and Mrs. White understood he was to be employed as a musician during his trip abroad this year.

He had no debts and recently bought a younger brother, Carl, from his New York home and was paying his tuition at Harvard.

Another brother, Sigmond, a New York physician, is coming from New York to claim the body.

HEIRESS DIES IN FLAMES

Haverhill, Feb. 25.—Trapped in her home, Mrs. Quincette C. Canning, 25-year-old heiress, was burned to death early today.

The girl was alone in the house when the fire started and apparently succeeded in reaching the door of her bedroom when she became unconscious.

Her body, buried almost beyond recognition, was found on the floor of her bedroom after firefighters poured tons of water into the blazing building.

A milkman, riding the flames while making his rounds, "cut in" in attempting to save his neighbors and then in diving his body half a mile in a fire alarm box.

Meanwhile, a Raymond Terry, occupant of the adjoining house,
was aroused by the flames ringing in his bedroom window. He telephoned the fire department.

But then it was impossible for any person to enter the house and live. When firemen arrived, even the grass around the cottage was burning.

James Canning, father of the girl, who, several years ago was left $100,000 by an uncle, and her brother, Thomas A. Canning, were with friends for the night until it was all over.

BOY DEAD, GIRL BLINDED BY POISON RUM

Los Angeles, Feb. 25 (AP)—The death of one 15-year-old high school student, the blinding of a 17-year-old girl and the arrest of a man for the sale of two bottles of the metropolitan area were the result of a search for a 15-year-old boy, who was found dead in a rooming house.

The Rev. Philip Lindner, who has just come here from three years spent in mission work on the island of Hawaii, said he had been told by a man who had been in the city for some time that a man named "Phil" had been in the city for some time and was looking for a rooming house.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 25 (AP)—There are 14 girls of marriageable age on the lonely south Atlantic island of Tristan da Cunha, which is so far removed from the rest of the world that a ship comes but once a year.

There are 21 young men of marriageable age on the island, and the girls are rivals for the affection of the boys. The girls are known as the "14 Girls of Tristan da Cunha," and the boys are known as the "21 Boys of Tristan da Cunha."

FUTURE SHADOW

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat heartily but not immediately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful, modern figure.

We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Taxi Driver Answers 'Is Flying Safe?'

By GEORGE HAMILIN

Flying safe? We have been predicting so for years, and now it is getting away with the assertion. But we imagine there are a few people left who look at airplanes with a certain amount of skepticism, and maybe that time expression—"If I can keep my foot on the ground." So we will set down the following story, with the hope that one or two more readers are brought around to the streamer's point of view.

There is a certain fellow who has been driving an automobile most of his life, and who makes both ends meet by means of selling taxi transportation. He is in the city with his taxi.

This fellow has looked at flying for the past couple of years with more than a longing, and has satisfied that coming to fly is a matter of sort of way.

This fellow being a very good friend of ours, asked us how about a hop in the little Davis D-1 airplane, which Walt Rogers and Gus Ham distribute around New England. We told him that the hop could be arranged very easily, and the next thing he knew, Gus Ham had him loaded into the front cockpit, and they were up for a ride.

Having flown ships before, but never having had any serious course in instruction, this certain fellow came down from his Davis ride, and had a strange glow in his eye. On the way to town from the Boston Airport that afternoon, we puzzled about the change in his manner. Then, right out of the blue, so to speak, he exploded.

"How soon can I start flying that bus? How long do you suppose it will take me to go solo, and get a license in it? I wonder—"

And there we cut in and explained several things to this certain fellow. And the next thing on the program was a confab with Walt Rogers. And now, after an hour and 10 minutes and instructions, has been on landings for 15 minutes of that time, and is to take off within the next hour or so.

And when this certain fellow looks with more confidence on airplanes than he does at a lot of the automobile drivers around town, it means that there are really two sides to every question. And one of those sides is that airplanes, properly cared for and properly handled, without unnecessary stunts, can be flown without a great amount of danger.

This certain fellow, in case you wanted to know all about it, is not other than Walt Rogers' relative, "flying taxi" man, Eddie Boucher, who hangs his hat on the corner of Mass. and Westland, when he is on the Hub airport, making aerial whoppers.

Why not try a ride today? You'll like it.

BUNNY RIDING
Incidentally, the Davis monoplane was given the official name, Frank Crowley, former Boston-New York mail pilot. Frank took the little ship up for a demonstration hop, and did a few things with it, one of which was making Warren Cully, the photo man, feel rather foolish.

As they barged along, Frank would poke the nose down, bringing Warren up to the safety belt, and then would pull the stick back, quickly, setting Warren back in his seat with a thump. This went on, to Frank's great glory.

Warren began to mutter, "nothing about not being able to do this for a few days. However, the pair of them made a few air shots of places around and then came back to the port.

WESTERLY VISITORS
Rogers stated that the pair of them acted like a couple of kids on a Sunday school picnic, but as long as they enjoyed themselves, everything was jake.

Coming up from their airport in Westbury, R. I., Messrs. Rogers and Hammett of the Atlantic Airport Corp., made themselves known and immediately went into a battle with the two Crowley's, Frank, of air mail fame, and Harold, of "Warrior" of airplane fame. The "two Crowley's" flew for the boys at Westbury last year for a time, and left an indelible impression on the minds of the company's executives.

The primary reason for the trip to Bean Town was to look over the new style airplanes and see if they would be interested in them. While no ships were bought, the pair of boys carried many a good idea back.

Starting Saturday of this week, skyways, Inc., will begin taking delivery of a fleet of Kitty Hawks for use in general instruction and for logging.

Crystal-Gazing

There is an art in gazing into crystals. Whether or not you have any leaning toward the occult, there is a fascination in gazing into the clear, liquid depths of a beautiful, pure crystal. Sparkling, transparent, Boston has this same quality possessed by rare crystals—those of absolute purity. It is possible to gaze into the depths of a stone of this nature and find no slightest flaw to mar its clarity.

And when you gaze into Boston's clear crystal-gazing, they will see that in the future, as in the present, the high quality of this sea will be maintained and the dependability of the supply will remain constant.

MARKET SAGS AFTER EARLY ADVANCES

By STEVE W. PRINOSIL
New York, Feb. 23 (AP)—A fresh collapse in wheat prices to new low levels for the season, coupled with a sharp break in rubber futures, unstrengthened the stock market again today, after a brief interval of strength which was featured by a brisk demand for the public utility and a selected assortment of specialties.

SPECULATORS SWITCHING

The break in March wheat to $1 a bushel, or nearly 4 cents below Monday's close, together with the decline of about $1.50 a bale in May cotton, which sold below 15 cents a pound for the first time this year, stated a renewal of selling pressure against stocks.

Wall Street apparently was paying more attention to the commodity markets than it has in some time. In recent years, many speculators temporarily switching their activities to the grain and cotton markets in an effort to catch the "big" surge.

Commission houses reported a large increase in new accounts in their commodity departments, particularly on the part of so-called amateur speculators.

Some of the early selling in steel shares was based on unfounded reports that the recovery in the iron and steel industry was over, and a slight falling off in operations was likely, although few traders expect a decline of long duration.

B. & M. RESUMPTION
The Boston & Maine railroad resumed dividends on the common stock at the rate of $4 a year for the first time since 1913. Remington Rand directors authorized the first payment on the common since October, 1927, and an initial dividend was declared on Newer Eros common.

The Texas Corporation and Nelson Bros. reported large income for 1929 than in the preceding year although the per share earnings in each case were smaller because of the larger capitalization.

A renewal of selling pressure against Simmons Company carried that issue down more than 4 points to a new low level for the year below $63 a share, which contrasted with a high of $188 last year.

Atchafalpa, New York Central and

U. S. Steel common, after selling above 190, sagged below 177. Consolidated Gas, May Department Stores and A. M. Byers also sold down 2 points or more, while a long list of others, including Westinghouse Electric, Northern Pacific, Union Pacific and St. Paul preferred sagged a point or more below yesterday's final quotations.

WHEAT PRICES AT NEW LOW

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Wheat prices broke to a new low again today, a fall of around 10 cents a bushel from the previous day's closing. The Chicago Board of Trade bringing the price for March option to within a fraction of a dollar a bushel. In Kansas the price for the crop was 60 cents.

The slump today was ascribed by brokers to a statement given by Chairman Legge of the Farm Bureau, who said that the board would not support prices.

Shortly before noon March wheat touched $1 a bushel, a figure that was not reached in 1914, according to farmers, but now was a depth unexpected. The option soon broke through to 99-2-3 cents. A late re-

Liggett & Myers
Subsidiary Profits
Income account of Pinkerton Tobacco Co., subsidiary of Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., for year ended Dec. 31, 1929, shows net profits of $146,454, and $197,183 in 1928. Total capital consists of $900,000 capital stock, of which 77½ per cent is owned by Liggett & Myers and 22½ per cent by the stockholders connected with the management. Net earnings in 1929 were equivalent to $146.24 a share of $100 par value.

Pinkerton Tobacco Co. manufactures scrap tobacco. Pinkerton's contribution to Liggett & Myers is derived in nearly complete recovery.

Myers income is by no means negligible. The 1929 figure was equivalent to 27 cents a share on combined common and common E of Liggett & Myers, as indicated by the recent offering to stockholders of one share at $23 for each five held.

Remington Rand

Commons Ordered

Remington-Rand, Inc., declared a quarterly dividend of 40 cents on the common, placing the stock on a $150 annual basis. On January 1 a special dividend of 50 cents was paid. The regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the first preferred and $2 on second preferred were also declared. All dividends are payable April 1 to stock of record March 8.
